Description

An elegant Napoleon III-era sideboard in blackened wood, adorned with rich Boule marquetry in brass on a tortoiseshell-style background. The door is decorated with an elegant panel featuring foliage, chimeras, and putti, framed by finely chiseled gilded bronze, with prominent mascarons at the corners. It opens to a mahogany interior fitted with two shelves, offering ample storage space. The top, with its understated fillet trim, elegantly completes the piece. A high-quality piece of furniture, both decorative and functional, representative of the craftsmanship of the Napoleon II period
