Description

A very beautiful and rare multilayered glass vase by Paul Nicolas d'Argental, acid-etched with red gooseberries. It has an inverted ovoid shape with a high shoulder (or obconical shape) that tapers toward the base and is topped by a short, straight neck. Wheel-turned to highlight the veins of the leaves and the veins of the fruit. In a delicate ruby red, this rare vase is full of charm with its cascading design. Cameo signature: D'argental
?Tiny chip at the base, barely visible
