

Young Woman With Jade Peaches Of Longevity

3 300 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Parfait état

Height : 18cm

Description

Jade Sculpture - Lady with Peaches of Longevity
Beijing (Peking), China - Circa 1920
An elegant pale celadon jade sculpture depicting a graceful young lady holding a branch of peaches of longevity, a traditional Chinese symbol of happiness, prosperity, and immortality. Carved in Beijing around 1920, this refined work displays exceptional craftsmanship. The flowing robes are delicately carved, the facial features are finely rendered, and the stone exhibits a beautiful translucency, characteristic of high-quality Chinese jade from the early 20th century. The sculpture is presented on its original carved hardwood stand.

Specifications
Origin: Beijing (Peking), China
Period: Circa 1920
Material: Natural pale celadon jade Height of sculpture: 18 cm (7.1 in) Overall height with

Dealer

Galerie Buter

Antiquités et tapis rares

Tel : 06 17 57 43 54

85 rue des rosiers Marché Biron stand 124 allée 1
Saint-Ouen 93400

stand: 22 cm (8.7 in)Stand: Original carved hardwood standCondition: Excellent condition, with no restorationsDescriptionThis elegant jade sculpture combines refined artistry, graceful proportions, and the natural beauty of translucent jade. It is a fine example of early 20th-century Beijing craftsmanship and would make an outstanding addition to any collection of Chinese works of art, Asian antiques, or fine jade carvings.