Description

Burma, early 20th century, a very pretty small Buddha statue made of wood lacquered with gold leaf on a black base, depicted seated on a triangular pedestal in the "touching the earth" mudra (Bhūmisparsha-Mudrā). This posture conveys a meditative state. A very beautiful piece reminiscent of dry-lacquer sculptures. There is a workshop mark in slight relief beneath the base, featuring a floral motif. Dimensions: Height 12 (cm). The scale reference in the last photograph is a small model of a lighter from a well-known brand. In good condition, aside from slight normal wear and a small chip on the garment at the left shoulder; this does not detract from its beautiful appearance. We take special care with our packaging by using optimal protective materials. Shipments are sent with insurance included.
