Description

An elegant sculpture made of solid Murano glass depicting a kneeling Chinese figure wearing a wide, conical hat. Created using the sommerso technique, it combines a body made of luminous yellow uraline glass with green hues, while the head and hat are crafted from clear, satin-finished glass. Under ultraviolet light, the glass reveals a green fluorescence characteristic of uraline, adding an extra decorative dimension to this creation. An iconic piece of Murano's artistic production from the 1960s, in the spirit of the Seguso workshops' creations, combining clean lines, high-quality craftsmanship, and remarkable decorative presence.
