Description

Artelano Screen-Style Shelving Unit / Bookcase for Roche Bobois - 1970s Design
An elegant display shelf from the 1970s produced by Artelano for Roche Bobois, notable for its original screen-like design. Its sleek, architectural design makes it an iconic piece of French modernist furniture. The structure is made of gold-lacquered metal (or satin brass finish) and features ten smoked glass shelves with rounded corners, offering a beautiful balance between visual lightness and functionality. Its accordion-style configuration allows it to be used as a bookcase, room divider, or display cabinet, visible and elegant from both sides. Thanks to its timeless aesthetic, this bookcase will naturally find its place in a contemporary or vintage interior, or even in a reimagined Art Deco
