Description

Beautiful German drop-action rifle in 8mm caliber (barrel muzzle diameter 8mm). Octagonal barrel marked on the underside. Adjustable rear sight on a long rail and adjustable, swiveling front sight. The bolt carrier is richly engraved with a floral design and a medallion featuring the bust of a hunter on both sides. It features a finger rest on the trigger guard, a notched butt plate, dual triggers, and a bolt handle with a hole for attaching a diopter sight. Beautiful walnut stock with checkering, featuring a wide left-side cheek piece and a right-side thumb rest. Functional mechanism; very fine craftsmanship in remarkably fresh condition. German target rifle made in the late 19th century, circa the 1870s-1880s. Please note that the diopter is missing. Total length 1.17 cm, weight 5.2
