

Pair Of Japanese Porcelain Lamps, Meiji Period

2 200 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Porcelain

Diameter : 25 cm

Height : 30 cm (33 cm à la douille)

Description

Pair of porcelain lamps with white and blue decoration accented with gold. The lamps were fashioned from a hexagonal-based, unpierced vase. The six rounded sides are decorated with geometric motifs alternating with landscape scenes or cherry tree branches bearing a bird. These designs appear within panels outlined with gold and red fillets. Beneath the hexagonal base, outlined by a blue border, one of the lamps bears a green rectangular stamp, while the other bears a series of Japanese ideograms. Very good overall condition; there is only a tiny chip on the neck of one of the lamps (see photo). New electrical wiring. Meiji era (1868-1912)
