Description

An elegant three-piece mantelpiece set consisting of a central planter and a pair of planters or vases, made of oxblood-red porcelain and richly adorned with gilded bronze mounts. Each piece is decorated with polychrome reserves depicting romantic scenes and figures in the 18th-century style, enhanced by delicate gilded decoration. The chiseled bronze mounts, with their flowing handles and openwork bases, emphasize the refined character of this set. This set, of fine craftsmanship, is representative of late 19th-century French production in the Sèvres style. It makes a remarkable decorative piece for a mantelpiece, a console table, or a classical interior. Condition: very good overall condition (to be specified based on your inspection). Period: late 19th century. Dimensions: Vase height 39 cm
