Description

An elegant dresser top that can also be used as a sofa throw, on a console table, a dresser, or even framed as a decorative panel. Crafted from sumptuous rust-colored velvet with deep sheen, it is adorned with a large, polychrome embroidery in high relief, executed in backstitch. Its Louis XV-inspired design features a majestic symmetrical scroll pattern composed of acanthus leaves, small flowers, berries, and an elegant central bouquet tied in a bow. The delicate shades of ivory, dusty pink, soft green, and honey stand out with refinement against the warm intensity of the velvet. The quality of the workmanship is remarkable: the generous volume of the embroidery creates a subtle play of light and shadow that brings the piece to life and attests to exceptional craftsmanship. Fully lined, this panel
