Description

A pair of large, majestic Louis XIV-style medallion frames in carved oak, originally gilded, dating from the late 17th or early 18th century. These frames feature rich carved decoration of flowers and foliage in bas-relief and high relief. Here, time has taken its toll, revealing the preparatory layer beneath the gilding and lending a superb patina to these relics of the past. The shades of white, ochre, and gray give the carving great depth, making these frames decorative elements in their own right. Good condition, with some missing sculpture, previous restorations, and traces of gilding. We ship worldwide; please contact us for an accurate shipping quote.
