Description

Émile Sabouraud (1900-1996) "Sweet Peas" Oil on canvas, signed lower right. This elegant still life, titled "Sweet Peas" as attested by the old label preserved on the reverse of the canvas, is a particularly representative work of Émile Sabouraud's talent. The artist depicts a delicate floral arrangement of sweet peas in earthenware vases, rendered with a lively, free, and generously impastoed brushstroke. The harmonies of blues, purples, pinks, and grays lend the composition a great freshness and remarkable luminosity. The richness of the paint, the spontaneity of the execution, and the subtlety of the color combinations testify to Sabouraud's mastery, whose still lifes are now highly sought after for their decorative quality and modernity. The work is presented in an elegant antique giltwood frame
