Description

SCULPTURE--CLASSICAL ART BRONZE
BROWN PATINA-RED THE MUSCADIN
FRANCE 19TH CENTURY A beautiful small bronze (12 cm) with a reddish-brown patina depicting the archetypal figure of Muscadin. Muscadin, used as a nickname, referred during the French Revolution to a young bourgeois, royalist, or counter-revolutionary with an eccentric elegance. The slightly backward-leaning posture (made possible by a sort of pivot in the base) adds to the character's pedantry. Very good condition (marks, scratches; see descriptive photos). Weight: 502 grams. Hallmarked on the base. Unsigned.
