Description

These two beautiful vases, dating from the Art Nouveau period around 1900, are in very good condition. They are unsigned, but their shapes and the lace-like decorations at the top are characteristic of the work of the famous master glassmaker, François Théodore Legras. The decoration featuring flowering branches of hollyhocks or hibiscus is truly delightful. The glass is a very dark red color. As these are vintage, handcrafted pieces, the heights vary slightly. Heights: 28 and 27.5 cm. Shipped with an invoice--quick, careful, and very secure.
