Description

Antique wrought-iron garden set, dating from the early 20th century, consisting of a round table and four matching chairs. The table rests on a central four-legged base, and its tabletop features a hole for a parasol. The chairs feature openwork seats and curved backrests. The set retains its original weathered white paint, with visible cracks, chips, and signs of oxidation, particularly on the seats and the edge of the tabletop. It can be kept in its current condition or restored depending on the desired look. Dimensions: Table: Ø 97.5 × H 73 cm Chairs: W 39 × H 80.5 × D 47.5 cm each Sold as a set.
