Description

This work by Mwenze Kibwanga depicts a stylized hunting scene. The geometric shapes, bold outlines, and warm colors lend the composition a great deal of rhythm and energy. Through an expressive pictorial language, the artist highlights the traditions and cultural richness of Central Africa. Mwenze Kibwanga (1925-1999) was a Congolese painter considered one of the leading figures in modern African art. Born in Lubumbashi, he developed a personal style blending traditional motifs with contemporary expression. His works, often inspired by daily life, nature, and Congolese customs, are distinguished by their powerful colors and dynamic composition. They are now part of several public and private collections in Africa and Europe. Provenance: Jo Van
