Description

An Icon of French Design - Ambient Lighting & Solid Bronze This rare pair of "Iris" lamps is an iconic creation by Christiane Charles for the prestigious Maison Charles in Paris. True decorative sculptures crafted from solid bronze, they embody the pinnacle of 1960s refinement and the excellence of French artisanal craftsmanship. Finding this legendary model as a pair is an exceptional opportunity. Aesthetics & Design: Material: Gilded bronze with a stunning alternation of matte and polished finishes, creating subtle plays of light on the petals. The charm of authenticity: There is a slight difference in patina between the two lamps. Far from being a flaw, this subtle nuance attests to their handcrafted nature and highlights the unique character and soul of each piece. Ambience:

Designed as luminous sculptures, they cast an intimate, golden glow. They are ideal when arranged symmetrically (on a sideboard, end tables, or nightstands) to create a cozy and warm atmosphere. Signature: Authentic pieces, signed on one of the petals. Condition & Restoration: The pieces have been carefully preserved and brought up to current safety standards. Structure: In excellent overall condition. The beautiful matte patina and slight traces of oxidation highlight and confirm their age and vintage character. Electrical System: The electrical system has been completely refurbished. They are equipped with superb gold-colored twisted fabric cords (visible in the photos) to perfectly preserve the period aesthetic. Comfort: Dimmer switches have been installed, allowing you to adjust the light intensity to your liking (candlelight effect possible). Technical details (for each lamp): Dimensions: Height 30 cm | Base span approximately 35 cm. Weight: Approximately 5 kg each (perfect stability). Light source: E14 bulb socket. Using a gold-capped bulb (recommended) allows the light to shine directly onto the bronze, thereby enhancing the metallic reflections. Why choose this pair? The "Iris" lamps are not just simple light fixtures; they are organic works of art that truly come into their own once lit. Their sculptural presence--now doubled--and their timeless radiance make them a sound investment and a touch of absolute prestige for lovers of exceptional design.
