Description

"Still Life with White Lilies" by Rodolphe-Théophile Bosshard depicts a bouquet of white lilies in a dark vase, rendered with a fluid touch and a delicately nuanced palette. The luminous petals seem to emerge from a background of gray, blue, and pinkish-brown tones, creating an atmosphere that is both serene and intimate.The composition highlights the contrast between the dazzling whiteness of the flowers and the more muted colors of the background. The visible brushstrokes lend texture to the petals and infuse the entire scene with a slight sense of movement, while the golden stamens add subtle accents of color.Dated: 1940Provenance: private collection, Brussels:Painting dimensions: 61 x 52 cmCanvas dimensions: 47 x 39 cm
