

Art Deco Macassar Serving Tray, Mirror, Chrome, And Glass

170 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Glass

Length : 39cm

Width : 23cm

Description

This elegant hybrid piece, dating from the Art Deco period around 1930, can be used as a courtesy or serving tray (ideal for displaying petits fours, glasses, or perfume bottles) or as a vintage, prestigious desk set or inkwell. It stands out for its superb blend of fine materials emblematic of its era: Base: A rectangular structure framed in chrome-plated metal, clad in precious wood (Macassar) with a very graphic, dark grain. Finish: The bottom consists of two original mirror panels that cast a beautiful reflection on the objects placed on it. Handle: A central cylindrical glass bar mounted on chrome-plated metal and wood bases, serving as a carrying handle or support. Glass elements: Comes with two removable bowls/trays made of thick, transparent molded glass, perfectly

Dealer

Eleousa gallery

Antiquités

Mobile : 0749880239

4 place de la croix

Ouroux-sur-Saône 71370

integrated into their housings.