Description

A three-door, three-drawer buffet dating to the second half of the 19th century (circa 1860-1880). The supporting structure, sides, and top are made of solid walnut, with a pronounced grain on the panels of the three doors. The upper surface features longitudinal slats, rounded front corners, and a moulded owl's beak perimeter profile. The front features three upper drawers and three lower hinged doors with a moulded frame and a single-slat central panel. The interior features shelves and doors closed by an antique, working lock with key. Drawers with wooden knobs. Restored and polished with shellac inside and out.
