

Mahogany Drop-top Desk - Louis XVI Period

1 000 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Mahogany

Width : 80

Height : 135

Depth : 40

Description

Mahogany Drop-Top Secretary - Louis XVI Period
Elegant Louis XVI-period drop-top secretary, crafted from flamed mahogany and topped with a black-lacquered wood top. Its understated and perfectly balanced lines, characteristic of late 18th-century neoclassical taste, are highlighted by fine cabinetmaking and original brass hardware. The front features an upper drawer, a drop-down flap serving as a writing surface, and two large drawers in the lower section. The drop-down flap reveals an interior comprising storage compartments, six small drawers, and a central area, providing a functional and elegant workspace. The writing surface is upholstered in leather. The fluted legs, the drooping brass handles, the diamond-shaped keyholes, and the central lock emphasize the

Dealer

Tino antiquites

Mobilier

Mobile : 0763127955

11 rue de bel air à l'huis laurent

Dun les Places 58230

refined simplicity characteristic of the Louis XVI style. The black-lacquered wooden top, which extends slightly beyond the sides, adds an extra touch of distinction. The piece rests on tapered legs finished with small brass feet. Period: Louis XVI, late 18th century. Materials: mahogany, oak interior, bronze and brass fittings, writing leather. Dimensions: Height: 135 cm Width: 80 cm Depth: 40 cm Condition: in very fine condition. Beautiful mahogany patina, complete and functional interior, original bronze fittings. A few slight signs of wear and minor restoration work consistent with its age. A high-quality Louis XVI secretary desk, combining elegance, functionality, and simplicity, ideal for both classic and contemporary interiors.