Description

An extendable table crafted from fine walnut, dating from the mid-19th century and originating from Italy. The tabletop has an oval shape, which fits perfectly into elegant and refined spaces, and is supported by a base consisting of four turned and finely carved legs. These legs, joined to the base by a turned crosspiece, give the table solid stability and a harmonious appearance.

Restoration work has been performed. This table is an example of 19th-century craftsmanship, ideal for settings that call for a touch of history and artisanal skill. ANTATA0320855
