Description

An elegant dark-patinated bronze sculpture depicting Winged Victory (Nike) captured in a dynamic flight pose, standing atop a globe. She holds the classic laurel wreath in her right hand. The figure rests on a block base made of Giallo di Siena marble (or antique veined marble). An old paper inventory label is present on the back. The patina and structure are in excellent condition; there is a slight bend or loss regarding the original attribute--likely made of paper or plant material--held in the left hand, consistent with the piece's age. Period: Second half of the 19th century (Neoclassical/Empire style).

Total height: 31 cm; maximum width (wingtip to wingtip): 26 cm; height excluding the marble
