Description

A beautiful bronze sculpture depicting a wild boar walking on a naturalistic terrace. The animal is rendered with a remarkable eye for detail, accurately capturing the power of its silhouette, the texture of its coat, and the characteristic expression of the species. This sculpture is based on a model by the famous French animal sculptor Antoine-Louis Barye (1796-1875), a major figure in French Romantic sculpture, whose depictions of wild animals had a profound impact on the 19th century. The bronze features a pleasing dark brown patina with subtle golden highlights and rests on an elegant black marble base. The pedestal bears the signature "Barye". Dimensions: Height: 18 cm Length: 18 cm Weight: 5.2 kg. A beautiful decorative piece for a cabinet of curiosities, a library, or a
