Description

Pair of large bronze sculpturesAn exceptional pair of large bronze sculptures depicting two elephants, created in the early 2000s for a private estate in the south of France.Designed as part of a large-scale architectural project, these decorative works impress with their size, realism, and the quality of their casting. These modern, anonymous, and unsigned works demonstrate true craftsmanship in the handling of form and detail, making a striking impression whether viewed up close or from a distance.Placed facing each other, they create a spectacular and elegant display. They will naturally find their place in a park, a landscaped garden, on either side of a path, around a swimming pool, or at the entrance to a historic residence. They can also be installed in a spacious lobby, a hotel, an estate, or a
