Description

Art Deco console table in Macassar ebony, dating from the 1930s. It features a wooden top and a front section with a drawer fitted with two round, nickel-plated knobs. The base is gondola-shaped and rests on an ogee-molded plinth. The original varnish remains intact. Macassar is a variety of brown-veined ebony--predominantly black--sourced primarily from Indonesia. Offered in "fresh-from-the-home" condition.
