Description

This 375-carat (9K) gold brooch, depicting a playful bird, is a subtle blend of natural motifs and fine jewelry. The bird's graceful lines are accentuated by a chalcedony with soft greenish hues, while vibrant rubies add life, contrast, and elegance to the piece. Animal motifs became one of the most distinctive features of French and Italian jewelry in the second half of the 20th century. This piece stands out for its soft, organic shapes, its finely crafted details, and a subtle balance of colors, lending it a sense of lightness, ornamentation, and refinement. This brooch can serve not only as an exclusive accessory for an outfit but also as a prized piece for a collection, showcasing the jewelry craftsmanship of the late 20th century. It has been hallmarked by the Lithuanian Assay Office. DETAILS: Dimensions:
