Description

Neapolitan Chest of Drawers, Late 18th Century
An elegant Neapolitan chest of drawers from the late 18th century, crafted from fine wood with stunning veneer work and sophisticated inlaid motifs. The piece features a characteristic undulating profile, with three large, wavy, and finely decorated drawers. The handles and air vents in chiseled bronze complete the design with a touch of refinement. The perfectly polished top highlights the warm grain of the wood. The piece stands out for its excellent craftsmanship and the harmonious balance of its forms, a hallmark of the finest Neapolitan cabinetmaking of the late 18th century. A piece of great charm, suitable for classic and collector's settings.
