Description

This pair of chairs dates from the 1960s; the curved design is evident on the seat and even more pronounced on the backrest. It has a lovely, airy silhouette with black tubular legs. Unrestored and untouched; you'll notice a small chip at the end of one leg, as well as scuffs, scratches, and stains. Please note that one of the seats is loose and needs to be reattached. Please note that one of the chairs has a backrest that slopes more toward the seat than the other; this may need to be straightened or left as is. They remain usable as is; you must accept the imperfections due to age and the fact that they have not been restored. We do not ship this type of item via mail due to its fragility, but we work with shipping carriers; please contact us for a quote. They are perfect for knowledgeable private buyers, dealers, and
