Description

A wall-mounted version of the famous Spider model, created in 1966 by architect Joe Colombo and produced by Oluce. The central clamping screw allows the support rod of the light fixture head to swivel 180° and enables the entire unit to be raised and lowered. The placement options are endless, and the lamp head itself offers numerous combinations. The "Cornalux"-type bulb, mounted on a bayonet socket, is LED and easy to find online.
