19th-century Cooper's Compass

240 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Solid wood

Width : 33 cm déplié au maximum

Height : 35 cm

Depth : 4,5 cm

Description

A cooper's compass, also known as a Burgundian compass. It was made of chestnut wood. It is a curved model with a screw for adjusting the desired diameter. It is fitted with iron points. Coopers used it to mark out the bottoms of barrels.

Dealer

Naturellement Curieux
Curiosités, haute époque, statuaire
Mobile : 0632182040

19 allée des vignes
Saint-Avertin 37550