Description

A superb antique 19th-century travel writing case made of mahogany, adorned with brass trim and hardware. It features a secret drawer beneath the case. The lid opens to reveal a refined interior lined with antique green felt. It also features several storage compartments, some of which include accessories (included): a silver-plated inkwell, a silver-plated powder shaker, a pen holder, and pens, as well as compartments for letters and correspondence. The lock is functional and comes with its key. The wood has a beautiful patina. Dimensions in cm: 35 x 21 x 13 (depth when open: 44). This box is also on display in my store in Morbihan, in southern Brittany, where you can pick it up if you wish. For shipping costs, additional photos, or more information, please feel free to contact me by email or by phone.
