Description

An elegant pair of French five-light table candelabra, made of bronze and marble, crafted in the Napoleon III style during the second half of the 19th century. Each candelabra rests on a square base of veined marble with purplish hues, supported by four bronze claw feet. The base is adorned with a central bronze medallion in the shape of a rosette, while the columnar shaft is embellished with finely chiseled bronze mounts at the base, intermediate rings, and capital. The five light arms extend harmoniously in elegant, Baroque-inspired plant scrolls and terminate in delicately engraved lamp heads and finials, attesting to the quality of their craftsmanship. Based on their stylistic characteristics and craftsmanship, this pair can be dated to the second half of the 19th century, a period when the
