

The Last Word In Photography

350 EUR

Signature : Mauclair Dacier

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Paper

Description

[PHOTOGRAPHY]. [JOKE]. The Last Word in Photography. Paris: M. D. éditeur [Mauclair Dacier], n.d. Red cardboard box with a lid illustrated by a mounted lithograph, containing a cardboard sleeve with an image inside depicting a monkey's head. Box dimensions: 105x75 mm. Three corners of the lid are broken; the fabric pull tab for the image inside the sleeve is missing. A rare, tongue-in-cheek set satirizing the craze for photographic portraits. The sleeve bears the following instructions: "Stare at the light-sensitive plate below for 10 seconds, then pull the ribbon, and you'll have your portrait. Likeness guaranteed."

Dealer

Le Zogrscope

Instruments scientifiques et médicaux anciens

Tel : +33688778366

5 rue de Condé

Paris 75006