Description

A slender urn resting on a pedestal. A spiral relief of intertwined women emerges from a square pedestal. Circling the vase, they soar upward, forming both a figurative frame and a stylized handle. This is an unsigned work by Alexandre Vibert. Alexandre Vibert (1847-1909)--a French sculptor who studied under Emmanuel Frémiet and Eugène Robert. Between 1883 and 1907, he regularly exhibited his works at the Salon des Artistes in Paris. He specialized in decorative tableware made of bronze and pewter. His Art Nouveau-style vases and dishes were characterized by their gentle, flowing forms. France, circa 1900. Patinated bronze. Total height: 53 cm. Dimensions of the bronze sculpture: 45 cm x 15 cm x 22 cm. Condition: good, two stains on the back of the body.
