Description

A bronze cast of The Little Neapolitan Fisherman, which Carpeaux sculpted during his stay in Rome at the Villa Medici. This iconic work by the great 19th-century sculptor enabled Carpeaux and his family to produce a highly successful series of bronze casts in various sizes. This cast is from an edition produced by Ets. Susse Foundry, which purchased the rights from the Carpeaux family in 1913. This cast, featuring a richly nuanced brown patina, stands on a green marble base.
