

Illuminated Page From A Book Of Hours On Parchment - Paris, Early 16th Century.

450 EUR

Period : 16th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Parchment

Width : 13,5 cms

Height : 20,5 cms

Description

A very beautiful double-sided leaf from a Book of Hours printed in Latin, Paris, early 16th century (circa 1500-1525). The text printed in Gothic type, richly decorated with wood-engraved borders, illuminated initials, and a remarkable religious scene enhanced with hand-applied color depicting the Risen Christ. The verso features a text from the Office of the Virgin (Ave gratia plena...), accompanied by engraved decoration and hand-painted initials. The medium exhibits the characteristics of a folio on vellum (parchment): a slightly stiff material, one side smoother than the other, and no visible watermarks visible through the paper. This attribution is proposed subject to a physical examination of the item. The work as a whole is characteristic of the prestigious Parisian

Dealer

Cave et fils

Ancient frames, Gilded wood, Mirrors and Paintings

Mobile : 06.31.58.80.71

31 rue Elie- Berthet

Limoges 87000

productions of the early 16th century, associated with the workshops of Philippe Pigouchet, Simon Vostre, or Thielman Kerver, though no definitive attribution has been made. Dimensions: 20.5 × 13.5 cm. Very good condition. The colors remain fresh, the margins are complete, and the sheet is in excellent condition.