320 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Paper

Width : 20 cms

Height : 25 cms

Description

A black-chalk portrait of a gentleman wearing a large, full wig in the 17th-century style. He has a stern, frontal gaze. The subject holds a rolled-up document in his left hand. The portrait is set within an oval stone frame. The hand holding the document extends beyond the frame, drawing attention to the document itself. "A beautiful piece, conveying an impression of majesty and solemnity." On the reverse, a handwritten inscription indicates that the drawing is of Dutch origin and dates from the 18th century. Layered paper.
