Description

The 1930 "Méhariste de Baret" is an elegant bronze sculpture depicting a camel-riding soldier mounted on his dromedary, in an iconic Orientalist style. This work stands out for the quality of its casting, the finesse of its chiseling, and the expressiveness of its composition. It is covered with a beautiful original patina--deep and warm--that perfectly highlights the reliefs and numerous details of both the figure and his mount. Dimensions: Height: 55 cm with spear - Length: 60 cm - A high-quality decorative sculpture, sought after by connoisseurs of Orientalist bronzes and collectors of Baret's works.
