

Louis XIV-era Fireplace With A Trumeau

32 000 EUR

Period : 17th century

Condition : Etat d'usage

Material : Stone

Length : 190cm

Height : 334cm

Depth : 54cm

Description

A Louis XIV-era stone fireplace made of Moselle stone, featuring a highly ornate trumeau with a mask motif surrounded by volutes and rocaille motifs. The trumeau rests on a richly carved lintel with seashells at the ends that frame a decorative motif above the slightly arched hearth. The jambs are cantilevered with molding that frames the hearth.

Dealer

Zunino

Purchase and sale of old materials and antiques

Tel : 04 42 64 12 38

635 Chemin des Jalassières

Eguilles 13510