Description

A set of four large family portraits, which have remained together to this day. Painted around 1840 by the artist Théophile Morel, who began exhibiting portraits at the Salon des Artistes Français at the start of the decade. These works are in perfect condition and have been recently cleaned. The frames have dents in the corners and around the edges, but not on the outer moldings. 118 x 98 cm including frame 87 x 68 cm (image size) Shipping available.
