Description

This Belle Époque brooch and pendant, circa 1900-1910, captivates with its ethereal design inspired by floral scrolls in the form of fleur-de-lis, characteristic of Art Nouveau. The set is crafted in gold and platinum; the motif is adorned with an elegant bar entirely set with 46 rose-cut diamonds, dominated at its center by a 0.20-carat old-cut diamond. Worn on a delicate chain or pinned to a jacket lapel, this piece is highly sought after for its dual functionality and superior craftsmanship. Period: Belle Époque, Art Nouveau - 1900-1910 Metal: Yellow gold and platinum Stones: Old-cut and rose-cut diamonds Function: Brooch and pendant Condition: Very good condition Weight: 7.0 grams Dimensions: 33 x 24 mm
