Description

Pair of Maison Jansen end tables - Solid mahogany with black lacquered tops An elegant pair of end tables attributed to the prestigious Maison Jansen, one of the most famous French interior design firms of the 20th century. Founded in Paris in 1880 by the Dutchman Jean-Henri Jansen, Maison Jansen established itself as an international leader in the art of interior design. It has designed the interiors of numerous aristocratic estates, royal palaces, mansions, embassies, and presidential residences around the world. Its style, blending French tradition, neoclassical influences, and modernity, remains highly sought after by collectors today. This pair perfectly illustrates the timeless elegance for which the firm is renowned. Crafted from solid mahogany, these tables feature a simple and perfectly balanced design. The black lacquered tops create a refined contrast with the natural warmth of the wood, highlighting the quality of their craftsmanship. The clean lines, precise joinery, and excellent finishes attest to the craftsmanship of the workshops that have contributed to Maison Jansen's reputation. Thanks to their harmonious proportions, these tables will naturally find their place as end tables, side tables, or nightstands in a classic, contemporary, or Art Deco interior. The slight signs of wear, primarily located beneath the tabletops, are consistent with their age and in no way detract from their elegance. Dimensions: Length: 64.5 cm Depth: 34.5 cm Height: 56 cm A high-quality pair, as decorative as it is functional, exemplifying the timeless elegance of 20th-century French furniture.
