Description

An important oil painting on wood attributed to the Italian Caravaggist School, dating from the late 16th to the early 17th century. The work displays the distinctive characteristics of Caravaggist painting, with a masterful use of chiaroscuro, intense expressiveness, and a composition of great balance--elements that recall the work of Caravaggio's followers in the early 17th century. The painting has survived in an exceptional state of preservation and retains its original paint layer in its entirety. It has never undergone restoration, repainting, or alterations, thus maintaining its authenticity intact. It requires only conservative cleaning, which will further enhance its chromatic and pictorial qualities. A work of considerable historical, artistic, and collectible interest. Technique: oil on panel. Date:
