

Moroccan Dagger Known As The "koumya" - Morocco, Late 19th To Early 20th Century

900 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Sterling silver

Description

Moroccan Dagger Known as a Koumya - Morocco, late 19th to early 20th century
A beautifully crafted Koumya featuring superb silver engraving. Wooden handle with chiseled silver elements. Chiseled silver scabbard with floral decoration. Arabic inscriptions on the pommel and the scabbard. On the left side of the pommel is inscribed the Basmala (??? ????)
(????? ??????) On the right side of the pommel and on the scabbard is inscribed an excerpt from the Throne Verse (Ayat al-Kursi), Surah Al-Baqarah, verse 255: Right side of the pommel: The beginning of Ayat al-Kursi (???? ?? ????)
(?? ????) The scabbard: The end of Ayat al-Kursi (??? ????? ?????? ??? ?????
?????) Which can be translated as O Living, O Self-Subsisting And their preservation is no

Dealer

Galerie Mathieu

Antiquités, armes et art extra-Européens

Châteauneuf-sur-Charente 16120 burden to Him. And He is the Most High, the Most GreatDouble-edged blade. Length 41.5

cmLength without sheath 40 cmBlade length 25
cmWeight 535 gWeight without sheath 269
gSheath weight 26 g