Description

CHM916 - An elegant fireplace made of white Carrara marble, characterized by a sinuous silhouette and rich relief carvings. The front panel features a wavy profile, embellished at the center by a large stylized shell flanked by elaborate plant motifs and acanthus leaves that flow harmoniously along the entire length of the crossbar. The composition features natural forms and linear movement. The side posts, contoured and slightly curved, are decorated with volutes and leaf motifs carved in relief. The upper corners terminate in soft curls that visually complement the profile of the mantel. The upper shelf, with its slightly projecting lines, completes the overall compositional balance. The fireplace comes complete with its original firebox and can be accessorized with various fireplace accessories:
