Description

A spectacular rectangular frame made of carved, openwork wood, crafted in the Baroque style and dating to the late 19th or early 20th century. The structure is adorned with a rich composition of leafy scrolls, floral elements, and distinctive oval medallions positioned at the four corners. The gilt finish boasts a splendid, warm period patina that enhances the chiaroscuro effects and the depth of the openwork carving, lending the piece great elegance and character. Ideal for housing an antique mirror or a canvas, or simply as a decorative wall piece. Style: Baroque (Neo-Baroque). Period: Late 19th - Early 20th century. Material: Carved and gilded wood. Condition: Excellent; shows slight, natural signs
