475 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Description

The piece is a Florentine Baroque-style box frame, crafted from finely carved and gilded wood. It features typical Tuscan craftsmanship, rich in leaf-shaped volutes, scrolls, and openwork carvings that surround the central rectangular mirror. Material: Hand-carved wood (often light woods such as linden) finished with gold leaf. Period: Although the design echoes the splendor of the 17th- and 18th-century Baroque, this specific small- to medium-sized model was reproduced in the second half of the 19th century, primarily in Tuscany. Condition: The mirror shows signs of age and oxidation on the reflective surface (common in antique mercury mirrors), which lend it an authentic vintage charm. Signs of age. Dimensions: H. 35 cm - W. 23.5 cm
