Description

This poster is a romantic and evocative work depicting a bride whose original dress--deemed too revealing by the censors--had to be retouched for the final version printed by the Chaix printing house. The poster is in good condition. Jules Alexandre Grün (1868-1938) was a French Post-Impressionist painter, illustrator, and poster artist renowned for his lighthearted and joyful works celebrating the Parisian cabarets of the Belle Époque. The term "Scala" refers to the famous lithographic advertising posters he designed for the renowned Parisian café-concert, La Scala. Dimensions: Height: 83 cm Width: 60 cmMX302
