Description

Small Louis-Philippe-style chest of drawers in flamed walnut - 19th century
Elegant small Louis-Philippe-style chest of drawers in walnut, featuring five drawers on the front. It features a beautiful book-matched flamed walnut grain, offering a rich and particularly decorative pattern. Its molded top with a beak-of-a-cormorant profile, its rounded legs, and its understated lines are characteristic of Louis-Philippe furniture from the first half of the 19th century. The drawers are fitted with their original locks and slide smoothly. The edges of the drawers are accented with a narrow band of lemonwood marquetry. The interiors are varnished. Thanks to its compact size, this chest of drawers will easily find a place in a bedroom, entryway, or living room.
